Setting the Standard for Tennis Teaching Excellence

Consider a Career in Tennis

Love what you do and you'll never work a day in your life

A resurgence in the popularity of tennis has created an amazing opportunity for you! There are more jobs than there are qualified, certified teaching pros to fill them. As someone who loves the game, this is a great time for you to start your career in the most exciting and rewarding industry - tennis!

Professional Tennis Registry (PTR), the largest global organization certifying tennis teachers and coaches, has a special program designed just for college and high school students. PTR on Campus gives you the opportunity to earn your tennis teaching certification at a price that fits your student budget. And, we can come right to your campus to do it!

What will I do after graduation?
 This is one of the biggest questions you will face in your lifetime. Consider a career in tennis. You can make a great living teaching tennis, with some entry level jobs starting at $40,000 a year! And PTR will help you get started.

An "Ace in the Hole"
 Even if your plans after graduation do not include tennis, it always helps to have a marketable trade. PTR Certification is a great safety net and impressive line on any resume. If you currently teach tennis part time or during the summer, PTR Certification may enable you to move up at your club. Some clubs will even pay part or all of your membership dues!

What is PTR?
 PTR is a non-profit organization whose mission is to educate, certify and serve tennis teachers and coaches. Not only do we provide the best preparation for certification, we also provide you with unsurpassed service and we stay with you to assist you to succeed throughout your career. PTR Certification is the most recognized tennis teaching certification in the world and will lend impressive credentials to your resume.

What are the benefits?
 In addition to access to our Jobs Bulletin, as a member, you will stay on top of industry trends with Tennis magazine, Bob Larson's e-news Daily College Tennis & Classifieds, the CoachingMinute and our award winning publication, TennisPro. PTR sponsors offer deep discounts on everything you'll need for your career, from racquets and balls to sunglasses and court accessories.

PTR is your educational resource, with access to instructional manuals and DVDs to meet your growing needs as a tennis teacher.

PTR on Campus

Who is eligible for PTR on Campus?
 Full time students age 16-24 with at least a 4.0 NTRP rating.

How do I prepare for PTR certification?
 When you join PTR, you'll receive a Welcome Packet that includes your Preparation for Certification DVD.

Once you join, you can then register for your free 10 hour PTR Teaching Essentials Certification Workshop. It can be either a PTR on Campus Workshop that you can help organize, or one of the hundreds of workshops PTR conducts around the country throughout the year.

Visit www.ptrtennis.org - click Certification, then Schedule - for the most up to date Workshop Schedule.

What is the initial cost?

	Regular Price	Your Price
Initiation Fee	$100	$100
Annual Dues	$ 85 - $175	$ 35 - $70
Workshop	$ 95	FREE!*
Total	$280 - $370	$135 - $170

Annual dues are only $35?
 That's right. As a full time undergrad, your annual renewal is only $35, instead of the regular price of $135. You save $100 each year!

What about liability insurance?
 Some clubs require teaching pros to carry liability insurance. PTR offers $6 million liability coverage which costs $40, but for full time students, it is just $20 per membership year.

PTR offers a FREE course?
 Yes, and you have two options. After joining PTR, you can attend a regularly scheduled PTR Teaching Essentials Workshop or you can attend a PTR on Campus Workshop at your school. The course is exactly the same, but the PTR on Campus Workshop is designed for full time students. Visit our website for the most up to date Workshop Schedule.

To attend one of these, or to organize a PTR on Campus workshop, please contact PTR International Headquarters.

TESTIMONIALS

It was an amazing experience for our team. I strongly encouraged varsity and club players to go through it to get a better understanding of the basic fundamentals of stroke production and an appreciation for teaching. Preparing my team for life after college, whether it includes playing tennis or not, is also a top priority for me as a coach. The presentation and communication skills developed at the workshop will help my student-athletes prepare for a career in teaching or for any job that requires leading a group of people. All in all, it was a rockin' team building weekend!
Luke Jensen, Syracuse University, Women's Head Coach

The workshop not only helped me to pass the certification tests, it made me a better, more confident tennis teacher. My students and tennis director noticed the difference immediately. After graduation, PTR Certification helped me to land the job at the club I wanted.
Tim Shaw, University of Wisconsin

Thank you for the wonderful and unforgettable PTR on Campus. We all learned so much about how to teach tennis and gained valuable confidence to help us in our current and future teaching. And, what a surprise to get help from PTR contacts after the workshop to find summer employment or full time jobs!!
Shuffel Hepburn, Flagler College, Men's Asst. Coach

My PTR certification will help me get a job if I can't find one in my Physical Education field right away. Who knows, I may love it so much that I'll never even look for an in-classroom teaching position. When I tell people I'm PTR Certified, they are that much more interested in taking lessons from me.
Megan A. Hertz, Winona State University
