PTR to Host Symposium in Southern California

The PTR will host a Fall Symposium for tennis coaches, September 9 & 10th at SeaCliff Country Club in Huntington Beach.

The event will be themed Excellence in Teaching and is open to everyone – PTR and USPTR teaching professionals, high school and college coaches, and students who are or will be teaching tennis.

The Symposium will feature presentations by

Pam Austin
Ken DeHart
Dave Hagler
Don Henson
Greg Langdon
and Ronita Elder

The event opens on Sunday afternoon when attendees will watch the US OPEN Men's Final with a discussion afterward and continues all day Monday with on court presentations.

Innovative presentations include:

Creating Programs and Activities That Energize
Who Wins...Who Loses ... and Why?
Competitive Games for Large Groups
Forming and Directing Inner City Programs
Giving Your Players a Foundation They Can Build On Finding Your Highest Value Within the Tennis Industry
101 Drills to Motivate and Excite

All for only $95 for PTR members and $125 for non-members.

Take advantage of this opportunity and re-energize for the fall. Join your friends and colleagues and make some new contacts. We have special prices at the Ramada on the Beach starting at $80 if you ask for the PTR/SeaCliff rate. Call 714-840-2431 for accommodations.

To register, call PTR at 800-421-6289 or email Julie@ptrtennis.org to reserve your spot.
